¹Fees could reduce earnings on the account. ²Based on average monthly balance per business account (accounts with same or different name/entity cannot be aggregated to satisfy the monthly minimum balance requirement.) We total the average monthly balance by adding the average daily balances (calculated by totaling the balances in your account at the end of each day for the statement period), divided by the number of days in the statement period. If a business customer does not satisfy the average monthly minimum balance of $25,000, a flat monthly fee of $100 shall apply. For further details and information regarding the Expected Profit Rate, see Disclosure of Account Terms for Truth in Savings that was provided at account opening.
